Swingtime Lausanne is looking for a :

RESIDENT TEACHER

Swingtime Lausanne is a non-profit association. Founded in 2015, it is made up of a community of around 150 members and has its own association space.

Dedicated to sharing jazz dances and swing culture—rooted in African American communities of the early 20th century—Swingtime works to make these dances accessible to a wide audience while honoring their history and social significance.

Committed to an inclusive, anti-racist, and community-driven approach, the association promotes respect, diversity, individual expression, and sharing, using dance as a tool for social connection, creativity, and collective transformation.

MISSIONS

- Teaching weekly classes, both independently and in partnership with other members of the teaching team (Lindy Hop and Solo Jazz for various levels)
- Ongoing training of the teaching team – weekly practice session
- Creation of a residency project
- Participation in the life of the association: social dances, interaction with the community

VALUES

The resident teacher must:

- Respect the values of the association

PROFILE

- Strong understanding of the African American origins of Lindy Hop and vernacular jazz. Active commitment to a respectful, contextualized, and responsible cultural transmission. Awareness of issues related to cultural appropriation, representation, and inclusion.
- Strong teaching experience in Lindy Hop as a Leader (Switch is a plus) and Solo Jazz
- Ability to teach fundamentals while fostering a supportive, inclusive, and motivating environment
- Ability to work autonomously while integrating into a small, volunteer-based team
- Languages: French and/or English

CONDITIONS

- Salary: hourly
- Teaching hours: 6–8 teaching hours per week
- Accommodation: provided and paid for by the association (studio or shared accommodation)
- Studio access: free access for practice and class preparation
- Non-exclusivity: possibility to teach for other organizations outside of the Association's class hours
- Support: designated contacts responsible for welcoming and supporting the residency
